

Bio for Dr. Alexandra Harrington

Dr. Alexandra R. Harrington is Lead Counsel for Peace, Justice and Accountability with the Centre for International Sustainable Development Law and the 2018 – 2019 the Fulbright Canada Research Chair in Global Governance, based at the Balsillie School of International Affairs in Waterloo, Canada. She holds a doctoral degree in law from McGill University Faculty of Law.

Dr. Harrington is the author of the book International Organizations and the Law and the forthcoming International Law and Global Governance: Treaty Regimes and Sustainable Development Goals Interpretation. She is the Director of Studies for the International Law Association Colombian branch, a member of the International Law Association Committee on the Role of International Law in Sustainable Natural Resource Management for Development, and an adjunct professor at Albany Law School. She also guest lectures globally on topics related to international law, environmental law, global governance and sustainable development.

Dr. Harrington has served as a consultant for entities such as the Commission for Environmental Cooperation of the North American Agreement on Environmental Cooperation and the UNEP. Dr. Harrington's publications address a variety of fields relating to international law, including environmental law, legal issues relating to climate change, natural resources regulation, international organizations, international human rights law, international child's rights, international trade law, corporate social responsibility, and criminal law. Dr. Harrington routinely presents her works at domestic and international conferences.

